

Exterior Iron Doors

Our entry doors incorporate a fully sealed separate swing out-unit which houses the glass. This provides easy access to the exterior glass for cleaning. One of the benefits of the 2" door thickness we use at Iron Doors NOW is that it allows us to have a flush fitting swing-out glass panel. Having the glass panel fit flush gives our door a cleaner appearance on the interior side. As for latching, we use a simple compression lock that opens with a few turns of the wrist. These are not only much more secure than an average thumb latch, but provide for a better appearance. At Iron Doors NOW, we never forget the importance of every detail.

The designs we offer at Iron Doors NOW are created to offer you a rich array of elegant styles from sleek and contemporary to elaborately embellished. We strive to make our designs proportioned and attuned to every door shape and size, striking just the right balance every time. However if there is a particular design you have in mind....just let us know. At Iron Doors NOW, we pay careful attention to every custom design aspect in order to give you lasting beauty, durability and safety that will last for years.

Every entry door made by Iron Doors NOW is finished Dark Bronze to the absolute highest standards through a unique 7 step process. Our doors are galvanized and electrostatically coated with zinc primer before painting (many other doors are not galvanized). This helps make Iron Doors NOW the most rust-resistant iron door in the industry. First we start with sandblasting to remove any impurities, second is a hot-dip galvanization process followed by an electrostatically coated layer of Zinc primer to virtually eliminate any kind of rust. Next we spray on premium grade "Nippon" Black Epoxy enamel that is baked on for 2 hours at high temperature. Finally we hand apply a copper faux finish and seal with a clear coat to ensure your door looks great for many years to come. Some homeowners choose to stay with this rich black satin finish, but a majority of customers at Iron Doors NOW opt for our standard aged dark bronze finish, for which our high quality Epoxy basecoat provides the perfect foundation.

placed a "Best of Houzz 2014" winner badge on your Houzz profile page and congratulate you once again on a job well done. I am pleased to announce that Iron Doors Now has been selected for the 2012 Best of Norwalk Awards in the Building Supplies category by the Norwalk Award Program committee. Our selection of your company is a reflection of the hard work of not only yourself, but of many people that have supported your business and contributed to the subsequent success of your organization. Iron Doors NOW....WOW! Thank you so much for the update and for checking on faster shipping!! I really appreciate all your help with this matter and for putting up with all of our phone calls today. Sorry, we are just under a lot of stress about closing on time. Thanks again for understanding and for working with us! Monica T. McKinney, TX I purchased a door and transom and they arrived in perfect condition and exactly fit in the space. The quality of the door is excellent and an equivalent door/transom that I investigated was 3 times the cost. Installed, the door/transom has been a beautiful addition to our home. J. Thurston. Bakersfield, CA Iron Doors Now provided me with outstanding customer service from Patrick Walker, prices that couldn't be matched, quick delivery and a door that is the envy of everyone in the neighborhood. The quality of the door is very high end and met all expectations. I am very happy with my beautiful entry iron door and would recommend to anyone looking for a statement piece that not only looks prominent but is sure to last a very long time! Thank you, Tara B and Family! Leesville, LA I recently purchased an 8' iron door with two sidelights from Iron Doors Now and the craftsmanship of the door is unbelievable. We shopped around and Iron Doors Now beat all the prices we found and was able to get the door to me for my project deadline.
